panies activities, over about the improvement in lake storage, reservoir storage and many catch basins, until now there is a vast network throughout our mountain lands. This helps mat-ally to insure a more even flow of waters during summer months.

Irrigation and canal companies were organized to facilitate better distribution of water and to insure more efficient use. The Kent's Lake Company was formed, and an embankment was erected in three areas to impound early runoff for later seasonal use. The Mammoth Canal Company was organized to take advantage of "high waters" in season and a huge canal was dug to carry the water to bench land formerly out of reach of irrigation.
